THE TENPENNY REPORT

TOPICS: Aerial Spraying Chemtrails Cloud Seeding Geoengineering HAARP Ionosphere USAF Weather Manipulation Weather Patents Weather Warfare

POSTED BY: FED UP TEXAS CHICK 05/21/2024

Nearly 60 years ago, in May 1962, then US Vice President Lyndon Baines Johnson (LBJ) gave the commencement address at his alma mater, Southwest Texas State University, now known as Texas State University. In the speech, LBJ talked about his international travels and professed that the United States must set the agenda for the rest of the world. (Source: Texas Archive) It wasn't so much a speech about freedom as it was a speech about control, and a very interesting aspect of control that LBJ mentioned was a comment about controlling global cloud layers: "He who controls the weather, will control the world."

The Tenpenny Report wrote about weather manipulation over a year ago; we covered man-made earthquakes and HAARP, the world's most powerful high-frequency transmitter used for "weather research." Read it here.

Interestingly, the US Air Force said they would shut HAARP down a decade ago, in 2014. There were even articles saying it was being dismantled piece by piece. But that wasn't true, was it, given that HAARP did its largest set of experiments in 2022, including bouncing a beam off the moon and sending a beam to Jupiter.

If weather warfare is not a "thing", why are there so many patents?

This week, we are pleased to bring you another wonderful find about weather warfare in an article by our newest guest author for The Tenpenny Report, Dr. Jennifer Brown. If you think our weather is not being manipulated, you may rethink that position after you read Dr. Brown's insightful article. Happy reading!

If you ever wonder how long the agenda has been attempting to come after us, here is yet another great example. This is a report presented to Air Force personnel (with some high ranking prefixes in their name) and this report is from 1996!!!! They discussed how to take over our weather by 2025. Well, that is only a few short months away.

I recommend reading thru the 52 page report. Here are some highlights:

The reasoning behind why they need to modify weather is “national security”. They can improve weather in areas where we are fighting wars, worsen weather to prevent “Russian and Chinese planes from flying cartel drugs to America” ?????, etc. They even cite examples from the 1940’s where weather modification would have benefited various war efforts.

How they hypothesized they would do it:

variables. Advances in these two areas would make it feasible to affect regional weather patterns by making small, continuous nudges to one or more influencing factors. Conceivably, with enough lead time and the right conditions, you could get “made-to-order” weather.⁴

Developing a true weather-modification capability will require various intervention tools to adjust the appropriate meteorological parameters in predictable ways. It is this area that must be developed by the military based on specific required capabilities such as those listed in table 1, table 1 is located in the Executive Summary. Such a system would contain a sensor array and localized battle area data net to provide the fine level of resolution required to detect intervention effects and provide feedback. This net would include ground, air, maritime, and space sensors as well as human observations in order to ensure the reliability and responsiveness of the system, even in the event of enemy countermeasures. It would also include specific intervention tools and technologies, some of which already exist and others which must be developed. Some of these proposed tools are described in the following chapter titled Concept of Operations. The total weather-modification process would be a real-time loop of continuous, appropriate, measured interventions, and feedback capable of producing desired weather behavior.

Besides providing pinpoint communication control and potential interception capability, this technology would also provide communication capability at specified frequencies, as desired. Figure 4-2 shows how a ground-based radiator might generate a series of AIMs, each of which would be tailored to reflect a selected transmission frequency. Such an arrangement would greatly expand the available bandwidth for

If this doesn't a) terrify you, or b) make you realize that just maybe they are monkeying around with our weather, or c) all of the above...read or skim through the 52 pages. A lot of "light bulb moments" are gonna go off.
